TeamControl

Are your team up for a challenge of the more technical ones?

TeamControl is a tour de force in engineering and remote-controlled gizmos.

The activity starts with a challenging Team-Battle with off-road RC cars, where the driver becomes very dependent on his team's observation on the track. The track must - after test driving, be guided and completed with your back turned!

Then we move inside for the construction of drones - in LEGO! - These must be flown several times to be approved, and finally, everyone gets their own drone - a bit easier to fly - for a fun finale, and we then fill the air in the meeting room with indoor drones and small challenges with these.

If the time is right, the activity can be expanded to even more TeamControl of other gizmos.
