TeamPlay

A Tour de Force of minigames and challenges

The TeamPlay activity is a true Tour de Force of cleverly designed mini-challenges and highly entertaining head-to-head battles. Across up to eight stations—depending on your arrangement—you will move around and challenge each other in teams.

Each battle zone features tasks designed to challenge, tease, and motivate the joy of working together toward a common goal—both with and against your colleagues. Most importantly, the activities are created to offer a wide variety of challenges, ensuring there is always someone on the team who can contribute with their particular strengths.

The real challenge comes after each game zone, where both the winning and losing teams must agree on who actually won the battle.
